

Josue F
Project Proposal

Website Name

Poké Pocket Promos

Website Description

The project would be a Database Website for promo cards that have been released in the game Pokémon TCG Pocket. The site would show every promo card released in a gallery type page.

Promo cards are only obtainable within a certain time frame so they are missable. Currently, the game doesn't show you that you are missing promo cards, and this would be a way to show promo cards that players may not know exist.

The site would also allow users to login and favorite cards, along with adding cards to their Wishlist. There can also be a rating system where users can rate each card on how effective it is to play or even how much they like the illustration.

Pages

Home Page

The design would be pretty simple: a Navigation, a Hero, and a Footer in a non-scrollable page. The Hero may contain either a search bar or a title and a motto like "Pokémon TCGP Promo Database." If the search bar is not in the Hero section, the Navigation can contain one so that users can quickly search for a card.

Gallery Type Page

The page would probably be called "Database," or "Cards." This page would show an image of each promo card (currently 33 but will rise in the upcoming weeks) in a grid. A filtering feature would be added so players can sort by the type of card it is (Trainer, Item, or Pokémon), or by the type of event it was obtained in, etc. Under each card would be buttons where users can "Add To Favorites", "Add to Wishlist", or "Rate."

Dedicated Card Page

Each image in the Gallery Type Page would be a link to the card's dedicated page (currently 33 pages). The design would be a simple non-scrollable page where a larger image of the card is shown along with a table showing its stats. An example design is provided below:

Pikachu - Lightning - 60 HP

Pokémon - Basic

⚡ Gnaw 20

Weakness: Fighting

Retreat: 1

Illustrated by Kouki Saitou

User Profile Page

This page would allow users to change their settings like email, and password. It would also allow users to view their list of "Favorites", and "Wishlist." These lists would probably be small images that also act as links to the card's Dedicated Card Page. These lists would also be modifiable so users would also be able to remove cards from their lists.

Non-Guaranteed Pages

If time permits, these are some other pages that could be added:

- Blog: A grid list that contains cards that are links to blog posts.
- Blog Posts: Articles about my experience playing the game or news about the game.
- Contact: The page would contain a couple of paragraphs saying that users can ask for new features, if they see anything that needs to be fixed like a typo, or if they want to message me about about a blog post. The page would contain a form that the users would have to fill out and submit.

Data

User Stored Data

- Email
- Password
- Lists (favorites, wishlist, etc.)
- Ratings

Card Data

- Card stats (name, type, hp, attack name, etc.)
- Card image
- User Ratings